Our search for any and all of Tesla's writings and equipment held by agencies of the United States Government has come to an end.

1. The Air Force has informed us that the Technical Reports of AMC-EPS have been scattered to libraries from Wright-Patterson AFB to Maxwell AFB and from Hanscom AFB to Hayden Library, Arizona State University. These reports are not indexed and are too numerous to be searched by the librarian on our behalf -- though we are free to conduct our own search.

2. The FBI seems to have "forgotten" our appeal. We believe the FBI is protecting someone, some group or something from review.

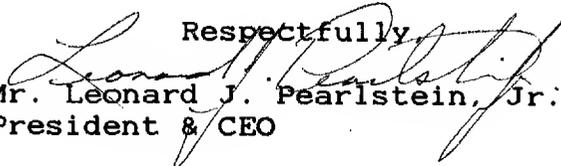

3. NRL is fast becoming an unwilling participant in our search of their Technical and Administrative records.

Suitland Storage Center maintains two separate NRL holdings. The first, custody of the National Archives, were searched to some degree by Randy, myself, yourself and Jack. The second, custody of NRL, contains the Technical and Administrative records of interest. This second holding is maintained under tight control by NRL.

In all three situations, we have the time, desire, dedication, and data enabling us to focus our search. We lack the finances to undertake the search and the authority to access the records and extract the specific material of interest.

Would, is, DIA interested in providing the revenue source and authority?

We look forward to your response.

Respectfully,

Mr. Leonard J. Pearlstein, Jr.
