3 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

4 Congress finds the following:

5 (1) The United States has demonstrated inter-
 6 national leadership in combating human trafficking
 7 and slavery through the enactment of the Traf-
 8 ficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 (division A of 9 Public Law 106–386; 22 U.S.C. 7101 et seq.) and 10 the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization
 11 Act of 2003 (Public Law 108–193).

12 (2) The United States Government currently 13 estimates that 600,000 to 800,000 individuals are

1 trafficked across international borders each year and 2 exploited through forced labor and commercial sex
3 exploitation. An estimated 80 percent of such indi-
4 viduals are women and girls.

5 (3) Since the enactment of the Trafficking Vic-
6 tims Protection Act of 2000, United States efforts
7 to combat trafficking in persons have focused pri-
8 marily on the international trafficking in persons, 9 including the trafficking of foreign citizens into the 10 United States.

11 (4) Trafficking in persons also occurs within 12 the borders of a country, including the United 13 States.

14 (5) An estimated 100,000 to 300,000 children
15 in the United States are at risk for commercial sex-
16 ual exploitation in the United States, including traf-
17 ficking, at any given time.

18 (6) Runaway and homeless children in the 19 United States are highly susceptible to being domes-
20 tically trafficked for commercial sexual exploitation.
21 Every day in the United States, between 1,300,000
22 and 2,800,000 runaway and homeless youth live on 23 the streets. One out of every seven children will run
24 away from home before the age of 18.

1           (7) A comprehensive strategy is needed to pre-
2 vent the victimization of United States citizens and 3 nationals through domestic trafficking.

4           (8) A project by the United Nations Edu-
5 cational, Scientific and Cultural Organization
6 (UNESCO) in Southeast Asia has documented a
7 linkage between the spread of HIV/AIDS and traf-
8 ficking in women and girls. Scant other research or 9 statistical data exists regarding the interconnection
10 between trafficking in persons and HIV/AIDS. Fur-11 ther research is needed to determine the extent to 12 which trafficking in persons contributes to the 13 spread of HIV/AIDS and to identify strategies to 14 combat this linkage.

15           (9) Following armed conflicts and during hu-
16 manitarian emergencies, indigenous populations face
17 increased security challenges and vulnerabilities
18 which result in myriad forms of violence, including 19 trafficking for sexual and labor exploitation. Foreign 20 policy and foreign aid professionals increasingly rec-21 ognize the increased activity of human traffickers in 22 post-conflict settings and during humanitarian emer-
23 gencies.

24           (10) There is a need to protect populations in 25 post-conflict settings and humanitarian emergencies

1 from being trafficked for sexual or labor exploi-
2 tation. The efforts of aid agencies to address the 3 protection needs of, among others, internally dis-
4 placed persons and refugees are useful in this re-
5 gard. Nonetheless, there remains a lack of institu-
6 tionalized programs and strategies at the United 7 States Agency for International Development, the 8 Department of State, and the Department of De-
9 fense to combat human trafficking, including 10 through protection and prevention methodologies, in 11 post-conflict environments and during humanitarian 12 emergencies.

13 (11) International and human rights organiza-
14 tions have documented a correlation between inter-
15 national deployments of military and civilian peace-
16 keepers and aid workers and a resulting increase in 17 the number of women and girls trafficked into pros-
18 titution in post-conflict regions.

19 (12) The involvement of employees and contrac-
20 tors of the United States Government and members
21 of the Armed Forces in trafficking in persons, facili-
22 tating the trafficking in persons, or exploiting the 23 victims of trafficking in persons is inconsistent with 24 United States laws and policies and undermines the

1       credibility and mission of United States Government
2       programs in post-conflict regions.

3           (13) Further measures are needed to ensure 4       that United States Government personnel and con-
5       tractors are held accountable for involvement with 6       acts of trafficking in persons, including by expand-
7       ing United States criminal jurisdiction to all United 8       States Government contractors abroad.

9           (14) Communities in the United States are not 10      fully informed about sex offenders who are residing 11      or working within those communities because offend-
12      ers who are convicted in a foreign court of a sexually 13      violent offense, or a criminal offense against a child
14      victim, are not currently encompassed by the Jacob
15      Wetterling Crimes Against Children and Sexually
16      Violent Offender Registration Program carried out
17      under section 170101 of the Violent Crime Control
18      and Law Enforcement Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C.
19      14701), as amended by Megan’s Law (Public Law
20      104–145;110 Stat. 1345).

14 GENCY ASSISTANCE.—The United States Agency for 15 International Development, the Department of State, and 16 the Department of Defense shall incorporate anti-traf-
17 ficking and protection measures for vulnerable popu-

12                   (i) the results of the study conducted 13                   pursuant to subparagraph (A); and

14                   (ii) specific recommendations to com-

20                   of Transition Initiatives and the Office of
