JOINT RESOLUTION

Designating June 17, 1994, as “African-American Men Positive Role Model Day”.

Whereas African-American men have strengthened and contributed to the United States in every aspect of life, including art, science, civil service, military service, athletics, education, business, law, and politics;

Whereas African-American men have played an essential role as heads of households and pillars of proud and productive African-American families, often in hostile social and economic environments;

Whereas African-American men have ably assumed community, regional, national, and international leadership roles, thereby achieving well-deserved recognition for their contributions and achievements; and

Whereas African-American men continue to serve as strong, positive role models for the young within their communities, as well as throughout the Nation and the world:
Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives
2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
3 That June 17, 1994, is designated as “African-American
4 Men Positive Role Model Day”, and the President is au-
5 thorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling on 6 the people of the United States to observe such day with 7 appropriate ceremonies and activities.
