25 including but without being limited to the authority to—

1 (1) make full use of competent personnel and
2 organizations outside the Office, public or private,
3 and form special ad hoc task forces or make other 4 arrangements when appropriate; and

5 (2) enter into contracts or other arrangements
6 as may be necessary for the conduct of the work of 7 the Office with any agency or instrumentality of the 8 United States, with any State, territory, or posses-

10 person, firm or association, corporation, or edu-
11 cational institution, accept and utilize the services of 12 voluntary and uncompensated personnel, acquire

16 governing its operation and organization.

17 (b) PERSONNEL.—The Director shall, in accordance 18 with such policies as the Board shall prescribe, appoint
19 and fix the compensation of such personnel as may be nec-

21 SEC. 5. ADVISORY COUNCIL.

22 An Advisory Council will be established by the Board
23 consisting of individuals who are most knowledgeable of 24 the state-of-the-art of processes, methods, and needs for 25 informing Congress of the opinions and values of the pub-

1 lic. Membership, duties, provisions for chairman and vice-
2 chairman, terms, expense allowances and compensation
3 shall be similar to that of the Technology Assessment Ad-
4 visory Council of the Office of Technology Assessment.
5 The Council will advise the Board on research priorities
6 and methods which are the most promising and cost effec-
7 tive to pursue and keep itself informed on the state-of-
8 the-art of opinion research, including such developments
9 as interactive TV, electronic fora and town meetings, com-
10 puter network conferencing, and all methods for enhanc-
11 ing democracy in this and other countries.

12 SEC. 6. EXPERT PANELS.

13 An expert, ad hoc panel will be set up by the Director
14 for each survey to assist in the design and analysis. Mem-
15 bers of these panels will be experts in the issues of the 16 survey and represent a full range of scientific expertise,
17 approaches, and viewpoints on alternative courses for deal-
18 ing with the issue in its various aspects and including all
19 major policy alternatives. A report will be prepared in a 20 timely fashion at the conclusion of each survey including 21 a master questionnaire, containing the questions as asked
22 with frequencies or percentage responses, and an analysis
23 prepared by the advisory panel with the assistance of in-24 house or contractor personnel.

1 SEC. 7. PUBLIC RELEASE.

2 The survey report and all other survey data (includ-
3 ing the methodology used and an analysis of the probable
4 accuracy and estimates of the probable errors both be-
5 cause of sampling error and all other causes) will be made
6 public in a timely manner to the news media and to orga-
7 nizations and individuals specializing in public policy or 8 public opinion. The other survey data will be available in 9 written form as a data book and in electronic form as com-
10 plete data discs readable by personal computers suitable 11 for statistical analysis in standard fashion and will be pro-
12 vided on request to anyone at a reasonable cost adequate
13 to cover the full marginal cost of production and distribu-
14 tion.

15 SEC. 8. METHODOLOGY.

16 The surveys will test the degree of public support for 17 alternative policy proposals when the survey respondents
18 are informed in a fair, balanced, and accurate manner
19 with relevant facts. The surveys will not only test support
20 for various policy proposals, but also seek to determine
21 how important various pieces of information, including 22 balanced sets of arguments for and against the proposal,
23 turn out to be in determining that support. Depending on 24 available funds to pay for the interviewing and analyzing 25 of statistically adequate oversamples, some surveys will 26 also endeavor to determine statistically significant dif-

1 ferences between the national sample and State or district
2 samples, particularly in those issue areas where particular
3 regions, States, or districts are expected to have different
4 opinions because of the nature of the issue.

5 SEC. 9. METHODOLOGICAL RESEARCH.

6 (a) IN GENERAL.—The surveys will experiment with 7 innovative technology, hardware, and software, including 8 electronic media, digital and fiber optics networks, both 9 with independent telephone interviewing and supple-
10 mented by and in conjunction with face-to-face interview-
11 ing and television programming that attempts to create 12 the group interactivity, issue-defining, agenda-setting and 13 consensus-building of what has come to be called the elec-
14 tronic town meeting, as any of these techniques and meth-
15 odologies show promise of improving the ability of the Of-16 fice to accomplish its purposes. The surveys will be de-
17 signed not only to obtain the policy views of the public
18 but also—

19 (1) to test various concepts about how best to 20 design, formulate, word, and include in the survey as 21 it is spoken, shown, or read by interviewers, whether 22 from CATI (Computer Assisted Telephone Inter-23 viewing) screens or by other means, the required fac-24 tual information and pro and con arguments; and

1 ate under the heading “OFFICIAL MAIL COSTS”, there is
2 rescinded the sum of $5,000,000. Of the funds appro-
3 priated in the Legislative Branch Appropriations Act,
4 1994, for the House of Representatives under the head-
5 ings “SALARIES AND EXPENSES” and “OFFICIAL MAIL
6 COSTS”, there is rescinded the sum of $5,000,000.
