RESOLUTION

To affirm this Nation's tradition of hunting on wildlife refuges.

Whereas the first national wildlife refuge was established in 1903; and since that time the number has grown to four hundred and ninety-nine refuges located in all regions of the United States;

Whereas the Refuge System can selectively accommodate a variety of recreational uses and is authorized to do so under existing law;

Whereas the National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act explicitly authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to permit recreational hunting on national wildlife refuges;

Whereas recreational hunting is a traditional public use of wildlife refuges enjoyed by millions of Americans;

Whereas recreational hunters provide vital funds for refuge acquisition through Duck Stamp purchases and other means;

Whereas recreational hunting is an important management tool for maintaining certain wildlife populations and protecting biodiversity;

Whereas professional refuge managers have pursued policies that helped protect endangered species and restore our great herds of elk, deer, antelope, and flocks of migratory birds;

Whereas some people for philosophical reasons would prohibit appropriate and sometimes necessary recreational hunting on refuges and other public lands; and

Whereas the United States Fish and Wildlife Service is conducting a review of the public uses of National Wildlife refuges, including traditional hunting and fishing, to determine the compatibility of these uses with refuge purposes: Now, therefore, be it

1       Resolved, That the Congress of the United States rec-
2 ognizes the need for and desirability of recreational hunt-
3 ing and fishing on national wildlife refuges; recognizes
4 both the financial and organizational support provided by
5 these recreational activities to our national wildlife refuges
6 and other Federal lands; and commends our professional
7 refuge managers who work diligently to enhance our wild-
8 life resources.
